In order to achieve this a number of mini projects are taking place. They are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary Care teams will over a three-year period offer annual health checks to all service users with moderate to severe learning disabilities. • Two GP practices have agreed to pilot this in September 2001. • A booklet – “Going to the Doctor” has been produced to assist service users and carers in the process. This has been widely distributed. • A training needs analysis for primary care services is currently being piloted. • A tracking project is planned for October 2001 – October 2002 to assess how effectively services work together to meet user needs. In response to the training needs analysis a training programme will be put in place, which will involve the Bracknell CTPLD, people with learning disabilities, their families and carers.

Seconded by Learning Disability Service to Primary Care Group.

Based and works as a member of the Primary health care team, Lesley's work has involved identifying the learning disabled population and supporting the GP's and Primary Health Care staff to provide health screening and general health care to the learning disabled population registered in two health care practices in South Bristol.(Population 14,000 – evidence; high levels of unmet need)

The post is currently being reviewed and in view of the recent White Paper, a recommendation is being made that this role should be extended across the wider Primary Care Trust from September 01.

Specific tasks:

- Assisting staff from within the primary health care team to identify their population of people with learning disabilities.
- Assisting with the development of a register using 'read codes' and their E mis computer system.
- Initiating and engaging in discussions to plan and develop a practice approach to working with their patients with learning disabilities.
- Working with primary health care colleagues in developing a practice health screening tool to assist in health screening.
- Attending health screening clinics to support treatment room nurses providing the screening checks.
- Assisting in the development of individual health action plans, monitoring their implementation and any actions.
- Staff training and the development of practice resources to support health care and health education for people with learning disabilities.
- Raising the need for primary care to be represented and subsequently attending a group considering a multi-agency approach to planning transition from child to adult services.
- Leading a multi agency group, including people with learning disabilities, in the development of a client held record.
